Camp Organizer Deluxe is a cost-free, feature-rich, small camp management database software that manages all the necessary data for a small camp including contact information, schedules and activities, as well as financial information. From novice to professional, Camp Organizer Deluxe has a feature set that is simple, yet fully featured. Camp Organizer Deluxe has 7 built-in database templates for you to get started; these include campers, camps, contacts, day planner, staff, todo, and assets. All of the templates are fully customizable, so you don't have to waste time setting up text boxes, categories, and fields. You can easily add or delete these types of templates at any time, so you can take your application in any direction that you want. You also have the ability to save all of your information to your computer for a faster retrieval. Camp Organizer Deluxe is a robust product that will allow you to create an organized database for your small camp in no time. Any changes you make to your database are automatically saved for you, so you will never lose anything important. You can easily export your database to CSV files, so that you can import and use this information in other databases. There are a number of ways to display your information on-screen. You can either choose to keep all of the information in one list, or you can have the information displayed in different lists on your screen. With the option to place your data on one page or spread it out over multiple screens, this program has a wide variety of options for you to select from. This is a feature that allows you to take the most of your time, so that you can get the job done quicker. Camp Organizer Deluxe Editor: Editing content is even easier with Camp Organizer Deluxe. All of the information you enter can be easily edited, so you can make any changes without having to print a copy of your data. You can also customize your entire application so that your information is accurately represented on-screen. Any changes you make to your data are immediately saved, so your information will always be up to date. An important aspect of this program is the ability to use the built-in browser. This feature is important, as you can have your information displayed outside of Camp Organizer Deluxe, but it will have to be in another program to make it useful. No matter where you choose to store your data, this program will make it easy to access this information, and you will never have to print a copy of
