■Worlds of Epic Fantasy and Myth

The world of Tarnished is divided into four planes: The Plane of Elves, the Plane of Humans, the Plane of Beasts, and the Plane of Sacrosa. The Plane of Elves and the Plane of Humans have been matched, and the Plane of Elves and the Plane of Beasts have become more distant. The Plane of Sacrosa has religious structures and knowledge that has not yet been recorded in the world. The Plane of Elves is full of culture and joy, and the Plane of Humans' scientific prowess is striking. The Planes of Elf, Beast, Sacrosan become blurbars named after a star, which are all guardians keeping the balance in the very flat world. The various races of Tarnished are divided among the four planes, and they are also sworn protectors of the balance. This book describes the history of the four planes, as well as the existence of Sacrosan. The Plane of Elves lies in the flat world, and the Plane of Humans lies on the other side of the flat world, and the plane is defended by the guardian elves. The Plane of Beasts has an abundance of flying creatures, and because of them, there are races known as the Griffins that fly in their own territory.

Fifteen cases were treated with single drug therapy, while 13 cases were treated with combined drug therapies. Sixty-five percent of the patients did not show any response to single therapy. All of the 3 cases of refractory anemia (RA) and 8 of the 12 cases of refractory anemia with ring sideroblasts (RARS) showed a marked response. Sixteen percent of the patients with refractory anemia with excess of blast cells (RAEB) also showed a marked response. The effect of combined drug therapy was greater than that of single drug therapy. Eight of the 13 cases of RA with anemia (RA with AA) and 6 of the 14 cases of acute myeloid leukemia (AML) with MDS showed a response to combined drug therapy. All of the MDS cases, except the 5 cases of refractory anemia with excess of blasts in transformation (RAEB-T) and the 2 cases of refractory anemia with excess of blasts (RAEB), showed complete response (CR) with only one drug therapy. These results suggest that the combined drug therapy is necessary for the treatment of primary MDS.. The fact that the court failed to note the lack of an entry on the form is of no moment because the basis for the court's ruling is abundantly clear: the petitioner's case is facially inadequate in that it fails to allege facts that would bring it within the statutory exception to the exhaustion requirement.
