You are astronaut going on a space mission to the planet P.E.R.F.E.C.T (that is if you make it). The planet is warm and pleasant and the people there are friendly. You are sent to the planet P.E.R.F.E.C.T by the fate or whatever. They said that you are the best person to find the 4 orbs. But your not really sure how to do that, but you do remember something. You are a space-man! You can fly there like a bullet! Hop in your rocket and start your journey to the planet P.E.R.F.E.C.T. (that is if you make it)!! Gameplay is pretty easy, just as you know platformers are. You need to jump, dodge and collect orbs while your on your way. If you disconnect from an orb you'll have about 10 seconds to gather oxygen and then you will automatically restart. Go back to an orb and you will be automatically saved. The Solar System is ever changing.

STORY : Long-term surviving fighter pilot Ben "Stark" Garner is back. After falling through a wormhole during the infamous Cylon attack on the Twelve Colonies, he returned to find humanity in a perilous situation and rallied the resistance to help the Colonies take back control of their destiny. He must now lead the Colonial fleet against the combined might of the Cylons. A chance to unravel the mysteries of the past, the Colonies' fragmented history, and a galaxy in chaos. CREW : Pilot: Ben "Stark" Garner Communications: Aaron Tait Weapon Systems: Brett Mayo Navigation: Callan Scott FIGHT & INTERVENTION : Battlestar Galactica Deadlock: Resurrection is a deep and unforgiving game. It's a living, breathing, and ever-evolving game that tells a story you can play through, and keeps you on the edge of your seat throughout. Each mission features its own personal story, and players must struggle not only to survive enemy attacks, but also to protect civilians and secure new facilities before the other Cylons arrive and cause you to lose the game. Winning the war means fewer potential casualties, so every mission is a battle between you and your allies, and the enemy. During the year-long ceasefire, the Cylons have won, and humanity is in desperate need of reinforcements. The Galactica is en route to an outlying sector of the galaxy to rebuild, equip, and train up a new fleet. Resources are scarce as ever, so the Fleet is now stretched thin and defense of the system is a top priority. Use your units to construct and upgrade new ships, battlestars, and squadrons. In the long term, Battlestar Galactica Deadlock: Resurrection features an active, ever-changing progression system that rewards players for improving their fleet or playing multiple campaigns at a time.
